

Prof. Dr. Alexander Makulilo

Selected International Conferences:

- “Continuity and Discontinuity in Tanzanian Elections: The Role of the Incumbency”, during the 119th American Political Science Association Annual Meeting & Exhibition (August 31 – September 3, 2023 Los Angeles, California).
- “Does Technology Curb Electoral Rigging? Evidence from Kenya” during the 27th World Congress of Political Science (15-19 July 2023, Buenos Aires, Argentina).
- “Interparty Dialogue in Africa: Theory and Practice” during the Martti Ahtisaari Peace Foundation (CMI) “High-Level Peer Exchange on Perspectives on the Development of Interparty Dialogue - Experiences from Tanzania and Burundi” (10 – 15 July 2023, Bujumbura, Burundi).
- “The Resilience of Authoritarianism in Africa” during the 3rd Tsinghua Area Studies Forum (3-5 July 2023, Tsinghua University, Beijing).
- “Challenges and Dynamics of Democratic Consolidation in Africa”, Keynote address during the 14th Mwalimu J.K. Nyerere Intellectual Festival (26-27 June 2023, University of Dar es Salaam).
- “The Future of Elections in Africa: Critical Issues and Perspectives” during a workshop (12-13 June, University of Duisburg-Essen, Germany).
- “The Future of Authoritarianism in Africa” during the 9th European Conference on African Studies (31 May - 3 June 2023, University of Cologne, Germany).
- “Does election observation matter? Examining the impact of observers in Tanzania and Uganda”, during the 8th European Conference on African Studies (11 – 15 June 2019, University of Edinburgh).
- “The Tension between Modernization and Traditional Medicine in Tanzania” during the 2nd Annual Governance and Development Conference (31st May – 2nd June 2018, University of Gothenburg, Sweden).
- “Uninterested or a Concerned Partner? Understanding Tanzania’s Stance towards East African Political Federation”, a paper presented the 5th Voice of Social Science International Conference (7 December, 2018, University of Dar es Salaam).
- “The Dominant One Party System in Tanzania” during the Succession in Liberation Movements Conference (19 – 20 October 2017, University of Johannesburg).
- “European Centre for Electoral Support (ECES) International Seminar” titled “Preventing election related violence: what role for political mediation and dialogue?” (12-13 July 2017, Brussels, Belgium).
- “Chieftaincy versus Legality: Examining Citizen’s attitudes towards Democracy in Tanzania” during the Traditional Governance and Indigenous Peoples in Contemporary Politics Conference (15 – 17 June 2016, University of Konstanz, Germany).
- “European Centre for Electoral Support (ECES) Observatory meeting and LEAD Curriculum Development workshop” (14 - 18 December 2015, Gaborone – Botswana).

- “Political Parties and Technology in Tanzania” during the International IDEA - Political Parties in a fast changing, technology driven environment Conference (10 – 12 December 2015, Hilton Hotel, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia).